Dear Mr. Sokolowski:

Kindly accept this correspondence in response to your inquiry dated May 13, 2002 regarding the above captioned matter.

Please note that J. J. White, Incorporated is purely a General and Mechanical Contracting Company, and has been since its inception in 1920. Additionally, J. J. White, Incorporated has never transported, stored, treated, or disposed of any materials at the locations identified above, or any other location. Further, contractually, J. J. White, Incorporated strictly prohibits engaging in this type of work activity.

J. J. White, Incorporated has on occasion performed minor/incidental mechanical work for Sunoco, Incorporated at their Darby Creek Tank Farm facility, but to the best of my knowledge not between the periods of 1958 - 1976. Any of the minor/incidental work performed after this time period however was purely mechanical maintenance in nature, and thus J. J. White, Incorporated has never operated nor controlled the operations of this facility. Copies of the contracts pertaining to this work are therefore not included with this response, however they can be made available as necessary.

I sincerely hope this answers your questions regarding your inquiry. If I may be of any future assistance, or should you have any additional questions concerning this matter, please feel free to contact me directly. My direct dial is (215) 722-1000 Ext 140.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Celestino
